

August 2, 2023

The 4.3” projected capacitive sensor used in the display modules you purchase from us has reached End of Life and the Last Time Buy for this component has passed. Our engineering team is working on identifying a form, fit, function replacement.

The new PCAP sensor will require a new part number. We will contact you when the first articles become available in November 2023.

Description of Changes: Production of the 4.3” PCAP Sensor has reached End of Life.
